From the Board

A message from the Director of Communications

Dear PMI Finland Chapter members,

Our most important day of the year is just nine days away: the PMI Finland Annual Conference 2026 — “Future-Fit Project Leadership”, on Thursday 8 October at the Radisson Blu Seaside Hotel in Helsinki.

Eight speakers from organisations such as Nokia, the International Institute for Learning (IIL) and ProjectBuddy will explore one question from many angles: what does project leadership need to look like when AI, uncertainty and constant change are the new normal? If you register for only one event this year, make it this one.

Our community grew from 481 members in January to 563 at the end of August, and 146 members joined the chapter — every one of them is named in this issue. We also want to thank the members who have been with the chapter since 2017 or earlier: your loyalty is the foundation we build on.

Since February we have delivered nine chapter webinars and, in September, a joint online event with our Nordic sister chapters on Sustainability in Action. Our academic outreach reached a milestone too: together with Arcada University of Applied Sciences we launched the PMI Finland Chapter Student Club — the first in the region.

A special thank-you goes to our conference sponsor, Clarity with itdesign, whose support helps make the conference possible. You can read their perspective on strategic portfolio management on page 8 — and meet them in person on 8 October.

See you in Helsinki!

Warm regards,
Nurkhat Ibadildin

Project Portfolio Management in Practice

How to drive strategy execution with Clarity clarity

with itdesign

Article provided by itdesign

Many organizations face the same everyday challenge: teams are working at full capacity, yet the most strategically important initiatives are still not progressing as expected. Calendars are filled with meetings, multiple projects are balanced at the same time, and decisions are often based on fragmented information. The result is increased workload and the feeling that the project portfolio is not sufficiently supporting the organization's business objectives.

This is where Strategic Project Portfolio Management (PPM) comes in. It provides transparency across ongoing and planned initiatives and helps organizations align their projects with strategic business objectives.

This is becoming increasingly important as digital transformation and artificial intelligence continue to reshape the business environment. Leveraging AI in project work is important, but its role in transforming the business as a whole is even more significant. However, the transformation cannot be successfully managed without planning, governance, and clear prioritization.

Organizations rarely suffer from a lack of ideas or development initiatives. The real challenge is determining which initiatives to pursue, allocating resources to the areas with the greatest potential impact, and giving leadership a reliable view of what the portfolio is actually achieving. Successful strategic project portfolio management is not achieved through individual measures alone, but through the combination of clear processes and the right tool support.

Clarity with itdesign

Clarity is a powerful PPM solution that brings strategy, projects, resources, and budgets together in one place, enabling transparent governance, fact-based prioritization, and a clear view of capacity, timelines, and investments. itdesign is a leading Clarity partner in Europe. With more than 20 years of experience, the itdesign team supports organizations from implementation to continuous improvement and understands the needs of PMOs, leadership teams, and business functions.

MEET CLARITY WITH ITDESIGN AT THE ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Timo Visa, Clarity Expert based in Finland, will attend the PMI Finland Annual Conference. Connect with Timo to discuss how Clarity can strengthen portfolio visibility, improve prioritization, and connect strategy with execution.

Webinar Highlights

Three threads from this year's programme

AI in the project room

Jorma Manninen (PMP®, PgMP®), founder of Business Made Agile, brought 30 years of international experience to a session on strategic messaging — how to cut through the “storm of noise” that AI-generated content creates.

Joachim Dehais, Enterprise Architect for the Swiss Government, and Adi Muslic, PMI Authorized PMP® Trainer with 20+ years in banking and IT, ran a two-hour practical session on using AI directly in daily project tasks.

Panagiotis Dousis, AI Lecturer at the University of Piraeus and the first professional in Greece to earn CPMAI™, explored how project professionals can steer AI adoption in a human-centric era.

Leading people & stakeholders

Fergus O'Connell, author of sixteen books including the long-running bestseller How to Run Successful Projects – the Silver Bullet, shared how to deal with impossible projects and irrational stakeholders.

Nicholas Errico, Senior Engagement Manager at AWS and holder of all 15 PMI certifications, spoke on optimising customer relationships.

Oluwapelumi Oladapo (PMP®), who works with the UK Government Legal Department, examined stakeholder alignment in consensus-driven cultures — with a special focus on Finland.

Delivering real value

Tasnim Sakka, IT project manager, lecturer and Agile/PMP trainer, traced the journey from waterfall to agile ways of leading.

Nikouri Brown (MSc, PMP®, PMI-PMOCP), founder of Creative PM Solutions with 16+ years of experience, argued that execution is a discipline — and why project management is more than a profession.

Priscila Z. Vendramini Mezzena (MBA, PMP®, PMI-ACP®), consultant across architecture, construction and IT, showed why project success starts long before delivery — with vision, value and purpose.

A big thank-you to all our speakers for sharing their time and expertise, and to everyone who joined live. Follow PMI Finland at www.pmi-fi.org for upcoming events — the next webinar is on 20 October (see page 17).

Nordic Collaboration

Sustainability in Action — a Nordic PMI online event · 9 September 2026

By Ceyda Üner, Director of Outreach (Social Impact), PMI Finland — organiser of the event

Sustainability is becoming an important part of project management. The question is how we can bring sustainability into our projects and make it part of the decisions we make.

The Nordic Sustainability Event brought this topic into focus, with PMI chapters across the Nordics coming together to discuss how sustainability can be put into practice.

The session featured different perspectives on sustainable project management. Edoardo Favari focused on embedding sustainability into project management, while Bronwyn Hallmcloughlin explored the practical application of the P5 framework. Kristine Bekkelund brought the focus to Sustainability in Action, with Mita Broca contributing to the wider discussion around sustainability and project management.

These different perspectives show how sustainability can be looked at from different angles — from the frameworks we use to the way we make decisions in our projects.

For PMI Finland, it is great to collaborate with other Nordic chapters around a topic that is relevant to project professionals across the region. Working together with PMI Norway, PMI Sweden and PMI Denmark gives us a chance to share ideas, learn from each other and bring the Nordic project management community closer together.

Thank you to our fellow Nordic chapters, speakers and everyone who contributed to the collaboration.

The poster is for the 'Sustainability in Action' event, held on 9 September 2026. It features the PMI logo and a calendar icon. The text includes '9 SEPTEMBER 2026', 'ONLINE | TIME: 18:00 - 20:00 CEST (UTC+2)', 'A NORDIC PMI ONLINE EVENT', and the flags of Sweden, Norway, Denmark, and Finland. The main title is 'SUSTAINABILITY IN ACTION' with the tagline 'Disruption is certain. Resilience is built.' Below this, a section titled 'WHAT TO EXPECT:' lists: 'CSPP™ Introduction to PMI's new sustainability frameworks and certifications', 'Real-world sustainable project example from Norway', 'Insights, inspiration and networking across the Nordic region', and '2 PDUs: Ways of Working; Power Skills, Business Acumen'. A circular image on the right shows a modern building with greenery. At the bottom, a green button says 'HELD ON 9 SEPTEMBER 2026'.

Nordic Collaboration: Key Takeaways

Key takeaways from 9 September

1 • Sustainability projects succeed under six conditions

Value

Make the value explicit and measurable in business terms

Authority

Portfolio decisions need to reflect sustainability focus

Translation

A structure that translates strategy into delivery — and back

Trade-off

Hold the line when delivery pressure mounts

Belief

Connect impact to team actions

Horizon

Govern for the long, less visible horizon

2 • A new certification: CSPP™ (formerly GPM-b™)

The Certified Sustainable Project Professional (CSPP™) has been available since 5 June. Formerly the GPM-b™, it complements the PMP® and builds on the PMI–GPM sustainability standards and guides, and it is offered in two paths depending on experience level.

	For practitioners (short)	Full certification (long)
Who	CAPM®, PMP®, PgMP®, PfMP® holders	Non-certified professionals
Exam	100 questions · 120 min	145 questions · 175 min
Learning	12 modules · 12 PDUs	20 modules · 20 PDUs
Validity	3 years / 30 PDUs	3 years / 30 PDUs

3 • P5: a new way of looking at projects

The PMI–GPM P5 Standard for Sustainability in Project Management looks beyond scope, cost and time to three impact domains — People, Planet and Prosperity — through two perspectives, the project's Product and its Process.

In a live exercise, participants picked the elements with the biggest impact on their own projects — from local procurement and GHG emissions to circular business models.

“You do not need to be a sustainability expert to start asking better questions of your project.”

— key takeaway from Bronwyn Hallmcloughlin's P5 session

The P5 Standard and the Practice Guide for Sustainability in PM are free for PMI members and part of PMI Infinity™.

of project professionals can deliver sustainability outcomes today

41%

of organisations are building this capability into their bench

59%

of organisations need professionals who can deliver on sustainability mandates

PMI Finland Chapter Student Club

The first student club in the region

From Elnaz Dehghani, Director of Academic Outreach

Dear Project Managers and Members of the PMI Finland Chapter,

This year has been an exciting one for our academic outreach efforts. We signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with Arcada University of Applied Sciences and held several face-to-face meetings to introduce our chapter and PMI to their staff and students.

Most importantly, in August we officially registered the PMI Finland Chapter Student Club, a student-led initiative where members take part in a variety of activities to grow professionally and connect with the wider project management community. Adding to this excitement, the club has now been officially onboarded into PMI's global Chapter Student Clubs network, meaning it is formally recognised within PMI's worldwide student community, with access to global resources, support, and opportunities to connect and collaborate with student clubs around the world. I am also proud to announce that, together with Arcada University, PMI Finland Chapter has established the first student club in the region.

We are still in the very early stages, with plenty of planning ahead, but the students have already held their first in-person meeting and had a chance to get to know one another. Looking ahead, the club will soon have its own logo, which is a fantastic milestone. The students are highly active and motivated to get this exciting new chapter underway.

We look forward to sharing more updates as the club continues to grow.
